Whole School Party
Next Wednesday 31 July will be Mrs Rintoul’s retirement day. She does not want a fuss so……. we would like to have a giant class party that would include all classes from Yr 1—7.

Each class will have a table in the undercover area where their shared lunch plates will be placed. Every student is invited to bring along something to share, remembering our anaphylactic students can not be in contact with nuts or kiwi fruit. There will be no canteen lunch orders on that day, although before school and recess sales are still available.

Mrs Rintoul can then enjoy seeing everyone together. Parents and family members are welcome to come along at 12.30pm also if they would like to personally thank Mrs Rintoul for the years of excellent teaching she has given to generations of students at Camboon Primary School.

School Development Day
On Monday, staff met at Camboon PS in the morning involving themselves in planning. This included year level and learning area teams meeting and an examination of some digital resources. In the afternoon, teachers met with staff from Hampton Park and Noranda Primary Schools to examine new assessment and reporting policies. It was a very busy but productive day.

Year 7 Camp
This week the Year 7 camp is being held at Ern Halliday Recreation Camp in Hillarys. Thank you to the tireless work of the Year 7 teachers who have organised the camp and have given up their own time to run the three day camp. There is an excellent program planned and Mrs Shortland, Mr Minson and Mrs Willox are congratulated on their efforts.

Reports
It is hoped that families were able to spend time during the school holidays reviewing their child’s Semester 1 report. In some cases teachers indicated on the report that they would like to conduct a parent interview. Please contact the teacher directly to organise a mutually agreed time. Helping your child to set some (achievable) goals for the next semester is a good way to support their learning.

School’s Tree Day 26 July 2013
Our Kindy and Pre primary students are planning to plant native flower seedlings in our bushland area in the south-east corner of the school. Thank you to Mrs Parker for organising this event. If you would like further information in relation to this, please see Mrs Parker in PP 1.

Hey, welcome everyone to Term 3. I hope you all had a good break. I am looking forward to the coming term to continue to serve the Camboon PS community in whichever way I can. Just let me know!

* The number one priority in fathering is to make sure that kids know they are accepted regardless of their performance. That is one of the keys. Our world is performance-driven. Kids will experience this at school, in sport, with girls, everything – only if you perform will you be accepted and liked. But no-one can live up to that ideal. So I bend over backwards to make the kids know that my feelings for them are never based on performance. The other day I got upset with Josh about something and he said to me, ‘Dad, do you still love me when I am bad?’ That’s it. That’s the question. I have to give him a clear, categorical answer to that question in my fathering. -John Dickson

* Encourage your child to do their best. But let them know that you love them no matter what.
* When your child fails it is especially important to express your continued love for them.
* You can be proud of your child’s accomplishments, but let them know that your love is not contingent on their success.
