Learning to Put Things Right: Why We Use P3P3F3

Why P3P3F3?

At Camboon Primary School, we want our students to become capable learners and thoughtful citizens. That means helping them learn from difficult moments, such as conflict, and not just punishing and then moving on.

P3P3F3 is one restorative process we use when students need support to work through a disagreement or the impact of their behaviour. It gives them a clear path to talk about what happened, how people were affected, and what they can do next.

The three parts are Past, Present and Future. In the Past, students briefly describe what happened. In the Present, they consider how people are feeling and what impact the situation has had. In the Future, each student identifies an action they can take to help put things right.

Each part is kept brief, so the conversation stays focused on the situation at hand rather than becoming a list of old grievances. The aim isn't to decide who is in the wrong but to help students listen, recognise the effect of their choices, take responsibility and move forward with a practical next step.

We recently used P3P3F3 with a student who had spoken very rudely to a teacher. By the end of the restorative conversation, the student chose to apologise and acknowledged their behaviour. That apology came from the student, not from being ordered to say the words. It was a small but meaningful moment of reflection and responsibility.

This is why we use the process. It helps us respond to behaviour while keeping learning and relationships as a priority. Students are given a chance to speak and reflect, and they are also expected to consider the impact of their actions and what they can do to make things right.

As a Real Schools partner, Camboon Primary School is committed to building a culture where students practise respect, responsibility and the skills they need to work through problems. These skills develop over time, through real conversations and support from the adults around them.

P3P3F3 isn't about pretending that hurtful behaviour doesn't matter. It's about helping students acknowledge what happened, understand its impact and take a constructive step forward. That's part of learning, and part of becoming a good citizen.

Italian Festival and Assembly

Last week, Signora Ferolla held her inaugural Italian Festival. Previously held under the banner of Languages Week, this culminated in the Italian Assembly, with our Year 6 students compering the assembly in the Italian Language. Signora Ferolla planned a variety of activities for the student to participate in, and I have to say that two scoops of Gelato, with the student greeting the servers, asking for their two flavours and thanking the servers in Italian, went down very well. Signora Ferolla and her mother, Eliana Ienco, our previous Languages Teacher, also gave a pasta making demonstration for the students. A lot of planning and time went into this week, and we are very appreciative of Signora Ferolla's efforts to immerse the students in Italian culture. Bravo, Signora, Bravo!

STEAM Week

In Week 2, we started the term off with all things STEAM. Catherine Mekins, our Science LOLA (Leader of Leaning Area) and Stacey Hardy, our Mathematics LOLA, planned a week of traditional and new activities for the students to explore and participate in, linked to Science, Technologies, Engineering, Arts and Mathematics. Teachers in the clusters also developed rotation activities for the week and there was a hum of excitement as students participated in a variety of activities. Entries to the main competition, which was, Design Camboon's Future Playground, were down a little on previous years but the students who participated put lots of time and thought into their entries. Thank you to Mrs Mekins and Ms Hardy for the effort and time they put into planning and making STEAM Week such a success, and to the staff who helped them in a variety of ways.

Weather Warming Up

The weather is trying to warm up, and all students need to wear their hats. It is also important to apply sunscreen; supplies have been replenished in classrooms for student use. If your child requires a specific sunscreen, please label the tube and inform the teacher. Students also need to hydrate regularly and need to fill their bottles at the end of recess and lunch. However, teachers will allow students to do this during class time if it is required.

Riding to School

With the beautiful weather we have been enjoying, it is fantastic to see more students riding to school. We kindly remind students and families that bikes and scooters are to be walked through the school grounds. Thank you for your ongoing support in helping us maintain a safe environment for all.

Festa Italiana Celebration

Last week, our students enjoyed a fantastic Festa Italiana day filled with fun, culture and learning. Throughout the day, students immersed themselves in Italian traditions, language, food, music and activities, gaining a deeper appreciation of Italy's rich culture. The excitement and enthusiasm on display made the day a wonderful success, and it was wonderful to see students embracing new experiences while celebrating their Italian learning. A big thank you to all staff and volunteers who helped make the day so memorable for our students!

Che bella giornata! (What a beautiful day!) 🇮🇹🍝🎶

Breakfast Club

Hey Camboon Community!

I hope Term 4 has been treating you well. Only 6 weeks to go, how crazy!

I just wanted to give everyone an update and a reminder that Breakfast Club is still running on Tuesdays from 8:15am-8:35am in the undercover canteen area. To lay out the heart and vision, this club is a time for us to gather as a community weekly, share a meal and enjoy each other's company before a busy week. If you have the capacity throughout this term, we would love to see more of you. All families and year levels welcome.

A quick update: Our team has grown wonderfully over the term, with 5 key social justice leaders helping each week. They have been an incredible blessing to the club (and me). When you come in next, make sure to say hi.

Also, a huge shout-out to my two incredible Breakfast Club captains, Jensen and Roman, who have been volunteering since Term 2. Such natural, humble leaders who have taken on setting up, serving and packing down consistently each week.

We look forward to seeing more of you as the term goes on.
